Schedule Set For 1972 Summer School

A "school on wheels" may be among the new programs offered in the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District's summer school sesseins, starting June 19.

At their recent meeting, trustees approved a summer school schedule of June 19 through July 28 for elementary and junior high schools, along with two sesseions for senior high students, from June 19 to July 14 and July 17 to August 11.

Summer classes will be held at Seaside and Monterey high schools for grades seven through 12. Elementary programs (through grade six) will be operated at Stilwell, Ord Terrace, Highland, Del Rey Woods, La Mesa and Monte Vista schools. Crumpton School will house a program from kindergarten through grade three only and Marina Vista School will serve grades four through six only.

The proposed "school on wheels" will be one of a dozen new offerings this summer. Cedric Jasper, summer school director, explained that the district hopes to provide this program for 30 to 60 elementary children from throughout the district.

As the title implies, the program would center around bus excursions, with these focusing on new study areas and subjects each time. Students would gather at a central location, spend a day in the classroom preparing for a trip, take the trip the next day and gather in the classroom again on the third day to discuss what was seen and learned on the excursion.

Jasper told trustees the program is still in the developmental stages and that details would be brought to the board when they are worked out.

He said other new offerings this summer will include tennis, gymnastics and dance for junior and senior high school students, swimming for junior high school students, chorus at all except primary grade levels, and instrumental music for junior and senior high school students.

In addition, the summer program will include a communications lab for 10th graders, high school typing classes, a revised work experience program for high school students and typing for high school students. King Junior High School will operate a remedial reading and math lab under a selected enrollment basis and a 15-cent breakfast program will be offered at Del Rey Woods, Highland, Ord Terrace and Crumpton schools, subject ot adequate participation of children in those areas.

Jasper noted that the new offerings were decided on after a survey of student interest was taken. He added that the programs will be instructional in nature, rather than recreational.

Special programs scheduled include classes for educable mentally retarded students, students with visual handicaps, students who need speech therapy and for school age mothers.

Each student in the district will be given a list of summer course offerings and registration applications during the latter part of April. Pre-registration will take place between April 24 and May 12.

Eelementary schools will operate from 8:30 to 11:50 a.m. during the summer sessions, and secondary schools will hold classes from 8 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Volunteers Are Needed

In an effort to bring Community Hospital Auxiliary's Candy Striper membership up to the desired strength for the summer program, the date for filing applications has been extended through April 15.

Junior volunteer chairman, Mrs. Richard Schnal, also announced recently that male high school and college students, between the ages of 16 and 18, may now serve at Community Hospital as volunteers, conforming with the general trend in California hospitals to open junior volunteer service to young men as well as young women.

Summer junior volunteer service involves volunteering four hours a week minimum, which allows for participation in volunteer activities even though the student may have full or part time summer employment.

Application forms for prospective Candy Stripers and junior male volunteers may be secured upon request at the Auxiliary reception desk in the hospital Morse Foundation Court area; or by telephoning the Auxiliary's office (mornings only - 624-5311, extension 348) and asking for the form to be mailed.

Retirees Plan to Help Local Youths

A small group of retirees on the Monterey Peninsula has organized an Retired Men's Social Club in an attempt to establish a community awareness program primarily to help young people develop into resourceful adults.

One of the primary goals of the club is to establish a youth employment program whereby young people will have an opportunity to learn about the world of work, develop appropriate work habits and learn how to manage their own income in later years.

The program differ from most youth employment programs in that the club hopes to design a system whereby most youths will be working in their own community. This will be done through a coordinating headquarters under youth management, and supervised by retired members of the club. Any person desiring someone to mow his lawn, wash is car, clean and wash windows and so on may call the coordinating headquarters and they will send the potential employee to that address ready for work.

According to James C. Stevenson Sr., president of the club, the program is in the planning stage at present, but it is hoped that it will be finalized and in progress at least by the start of summer. This is the time when hundreds of youngsters will come pouring out of class rooms where they have been busy with studies and examinations for the past nine months, looking for something to do.

The organization feel that if these boys and girls could find some type of employment, full or part time, it would eliminate many of the social problems that generally develop in the community when there are hundreds of youngsters roaming the streets with nothing to do.

While the 12-18 year-olds are working, the club hopes to have organized sports for younger youths. This will include soft ball, swimming, boxing and other interesting sports.

To kick the program off, the social club will sponsor an April Fool Day Dance this Saturday, April 1, at Portuguese Hall, Monterey, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Tickets are on sale now and may be obtained by calling 394-3298 or by contacting any of the members. All donations will go toward finalizing the employment center and establishing recreational programs for youngsters during the summer vacation period.

The public is invited to attend.

At present the club has 20 members and it is open to all persons, regardless of race or national origin, male or female. The initiate membership fees are $8.00 and club dues are $2.50 per month. Meetings are held on the last Saturday of each month and are open to all interesting persons.

Stevenson also said that the club will call on businesses on the Peninsula and government agencies to assist in the youth employment program.

A sampling survey indicates that many parents are intrigued with the program and the club feels that it will be a big success if all residents and citizens of the Peninsula will give their full support to the employement program for youths.

MPC Student Named Winner

Monterey Peninsula College student Keith F. Graham this week was named a regional winner in the Bank of America's Community College Awards Program, according to MPC Financial Aids Officer Medric Wade.

Graham, who was the winner in the field of humanities and social science, will enter the state finals in San Francisco on April 20. He could qualify for a $2000 scholarship if he wins first place in the final competition. As a regional winner, he is assured of at least $400 in scholarship funds.

A history major, Graham will graduate from MPC this spring with an Associate of Arts degree, after which he plans to continue his education at the University of Santa Clara. He hopes to attend law school.

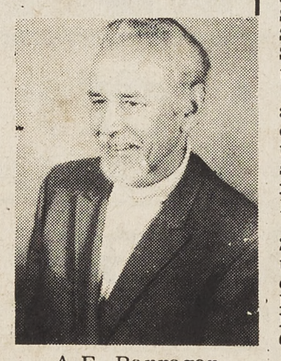

The purpose of the awards program sponsored by the Bank of America is to honor outstanding students whose scholastic achievement, sense of civic responsibility and leadership give most promise of future success and service to society.

The other day I dropped in at the Whole Earth Craft Center in Cannery Row to visit a couple of friends of mine, Sandy and Robin. They are the proud young proprietors of a concession called Velvet Construction Company. They make dresses and that sort of "way out" stuff that the Now People are wearing. I have to admit that they are pretty good too. They have only been open a short time, so they are still seeking all the new business they can get. Maybe that is why they advertised in this paper.

I talked with them for a while and decided to browse around the Craft Center. I wandered into the Whole Earth Book Store and started talking with David Mann, who runs the store. Seems he is very concerned with the big businesses who have taken an interest in the Row since it has become a tourist attraction. He is voicing his dissent in one of the popular small newspapers in the East Bay Area and asked me to deliver it for him on my next trip north. Anyway he laid on me one of the many good

Installation Is Planned

Ted Cunningham will be installed as a member of the Monterey Peninsula Board of Education at the board's next regular meeting, next Monday, April 3.

Cunningham was elected recently to finish the term of George Givident, who resigned last November when a job change required an out-of-state move.

Cunningham will be one of five trustees representing monterey, Seaside, Del Rey Oaks, Sand City and Fort Ord.

Training Sessions Beginning

The Alliance on Aging's Friendly Vistor service has been serving the elderly shut-in resident of Seaside and Marina during the past year, and the demand for more services is increasing. To meet these needs, a four session training sequence for Friendly Visitors--volunteers who visit the elderly and other shut-ins who have no one to "brighten their days" will begin Wednesday April 5, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at St. John's Chapel community room, Sylvan Road and Mark Thomas Drive, Monterey. Training will continue on Wednesday April 12, 19 and 26 at the same time.

The training sequence is offered as a non-fee institute by the Alliance on Aging and Monterey Peninsula College. Registration is required. Phone 373-2335 or 624-7872.

Some of the subjects included in the training course are: "A Guide to Visiting," by Rev. Ernest R. Lineburger Jr.; "Spiritual Needs of the Elderly," by Fr. Joseph Cloonan, CHC, USN: "Medical Problems of Aging," by Donald M. Scanlon, M.D.; "Services Available to the Elderly From the Visiting Nurses," by Mrs. Margery Mann, Acting Director. Mr. A.E. Nicholsons' topic will be "Conversational Topics to Use when Visiting."

Information will be given by the County Welfare and Social Security Offices, as well as on the ethics of visiting and visiting do's and don'ts.

Service as a Friendly Visitor for the Alliance on Aging or a Peninsula church, according to Mrs. Carl Hering, program coordinator, involves an assignment to visit two persons at least twice a month, to telephone them frequently and take them on occasional short pleasure trips.

Elected

Just elected to fill two vacancies on the Monterey County Taxpayers' Association board of directors are Frederick F. Mitchell of Seaside and John C. Rathbun of Salinas.

Mitchell is a former Seaside city councilman and Rathburn is a Salinas Realtor.

Both men have been members of the county-wide taxpayers' organization for some time.

Apply For Scholarships

The Ft. Ord Officers Wives Club is accepting applications for several scholarships.

There will be three $500 scholarships offered to graduating high school seniors planning to attend college and one $250 scholarship for a student who plans to pursue a vocational program. The scholarhips will be awarded on overall scholastic achievement and participation in extra curricular activities. The eligibility requirements are that the applicant must be a June 1972 graduating senior from any accredited high school in the area. The recipient must be a dependent of either an active, retired or deceased U.S. Army officer.

Qualified students can obtain an application from Mrs. Robert Cooper, welfare chairman, 258 Tunisia Road, Ft. Ord, telephone 242-5737.

Two special scholarships have been established for wives of junior officers (warrant officer 1, 2, or 3 or lieutenant or captain) who meet certain eligibility requirements. These scholarship gifts may be used for upper division courses at the Ft. Ord Branch of Golden Gate College or York Campus. Specifics on eligibility and applications may be obtained from Mrs. Cooper.

Deadline for submission of all scholarship applications is April 23.

Meeting For Parents Announced

Parents of all incoming 10th grade students to Seaside High School for next fall are invited to attend an orientation meeting on the Seaside High School campus at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 3.

The meeting will be held in Halleck Cafeteria. Parents will have an opportunity to learn of the academic offerings for next year as well as other aspects of the instructional and extra curricular program. Counselors and administrators will be on hand to afford parents the opportunity to ask questions.

Seaside High School serves students in grades 10-11-12 who live in Marina, Fort Ord and that part of Seaside north of Broadway.

Enter the campus from Noche Buena Street, just across Circle Avenue at Military Avenue, Seaside.

Tax News

Californians who file their State personal income tax without full payment cannot claim the special 20 percent reduction included in the law which enacted general income tax withholding. Failure to pay in full by this year's April 17 deadline includes a penalty as well, warned Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Failure to pay the full amount of tax due will result in the assessment of an immediate five percent penalty, plus an additional one-half percent each month for 36 months on unpaid tax. This is in addition to payment of interest.

This year it is even more important to file the State personal income tax return and pay the full amount due by the April 17 deadline, Huff said.

Today's Army NEWS By Sgt. Jose Garcia

U.S. ARMY RECRUITER

Will you like TODAY'S ARMY life? You'll like TODAY'S ARMY if you're the sort of guy who likes a challenge and who likes to do his best at anything he takes up. For the Army is no place for a person who does just enough to get by and no more. TODAY'S ARMY life is demanding, the training tough. It calls for the very best you have and, most of the time, it demands a little extra and gets it. To measure up to what the Army expects of you, you must have the ability to learn new skills, assume leadership responsibilities and, above all, exhibit a deep seated dedication to your work and to your Country.

But you'll find the TODAY'S ARMY returns a lot in kind. Training gives you a solid foundation for a life's work. Travel -- to a degree that few civilians ever have. A chance to participate in news-making events of the day. Opportunities to get to know yourself and your capabilities. Time to build strength in both mind and body ... for recreation and friendship ... and, perhaps the most important of all, the opportunity to make a really worthwhile contribution to the security of your Country.

But it is not all work and study in the Army. A brand-new way of life will open up to you as a soldier. You'll make lasting friendships. Gain personal satisfaction from doing an important job and earning the respect of your fellow soldiers. So, if you want to start on the road to the top in TODAY'S ARMY see us at 431 Webster Street in Monterey or call us at 372-4742.

This week it gives me great pleasure to welcome Staff Sergeant Robert Cardwell as the newest member of our recruiting staff here on the Peninsula. SSG Cardwell is a qualified recruiter and career counselor and has held such positions at Fort Ord and Oakland, which was his last assignment. He will be working in the Seaside and Monterey area and future articles for TODAY'S ARMY NEWS will be written by him.

At this time I would like to express my appreciation to all our faithful POST readers and most of all to the POST staff, for all the assistance and support they have given me in the past. I will remain on the Peninsula as office manager for TODAY'S ARMY recruiting activities, also recruiter for the Marina and Fort Ord area.

Soldiers Keep Beach Clean

The green flag of ecology, "Keep America Beautiful" and "Don't Be A Litter Bug" are slogans and signs seen on thousands of automobiles today. Some people ignore them or think they are trivial, others think they make a lot of sense, but how many people do something about the ecology problem?

On Sunday, March 19, over 100 men in training from Company A, 1st Battalion, 1st Basic Combat Training Brigade of Ft. Ord did something -- they volunteered their time to clean up Del Monte Beach, an important stretch of Monterey's spectacular coastline.

Most people would assume that these young men "had" to clean up the beach, but most of them had personal reasons for giving up their spare time on an early Sunday morning. Many of these men came from the central part of the nation and had never been close to an ocean. And the picutes they had formed in their minds weren't exactly what they saw in reality. "An ocean shouldn't have a beach with the kind of trash we found on it this morning," was a phrase heard from many of the soldiers.

According to Captain Wallace Brown, company commander of A-1-1, over two and a half truckloads of trash were collected in a short two hours. Everything from an old rusty bed spring to a single shoe, broken bottles to beer cans was collected among the trash and disposed of by the City of Monterey.

This project is just a beginning of what is being planned in the future. Other companies of soldiers are preparing their free weekends to clean up other beaches, parks and recreational spots to have a more prettier area to live in.

Safety Poster Winners Named

Three elementary students from the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District are included in a list of winners in the ninth annual traffic safety poster contest sponsored by the California State Automobile Association.

Mary Loftus, a fifth grade student of teacher Joann Butts at La Mesa School in Monterey, won first place among fourth through sixth graders for her poster. She will receive a $25 prize.

Another La Mesa student, first-grader Doug Kiem, won a second place prize of $10 in the kindergarten through third grade division. His teacher is Nancy Roberts.

Jennifer Hagenhoff, a third grader at Olson School whose teacher is Mary Thomas, won a commendation award in the kindergarten through third grade category.

Outstanding Soldier Named

The parents of a soldier who took his basic training at Ft. Ord and advanced training at Ft. Benning, Georgia, have been notified by his commanding general in Vietnam that their son was picked as the outstanding soldier of his unit.

He is Sergeant Leo Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip J. Walker of Castroville. His unit, the 196th Infantry, is commanded by Brigadier General Joseph C. McDonough.

In a letter to the Walkers the general states, "Your son is one of the most outstanding young men I have encountered in my many years as a professional soldier."

Mrs. Walker, the soldier's mother, is presently working at Ft. Ord as a dispatcher in the motor pool.

Youth Show Is Success

An estimated 1,200 people showed up to witness "Youth on Parade" recently at the Ft. Ord Sports Arena.

Edwin Hubbard, recreation and community schools director for the Monterey Peninsula Unified Public School District, conceived the idea of Youth on Parade, which was a combined demonstration of skills being taught to students of Hayes, Marshall, Patton and Stilwell elementary schools and Fitch Junior High Schoo.

Skills such as twirling, cheerleading, fashion designing and sewing, art, basketball, singing and gymnastics were demonstrated.

Hubbard commented, "We feel this is a start to having programs periodically in which we show the skills that are being taught to boys and girls after school. Since there is quite a turnover in personnel here at Ft. Ord we feel we should do this at least twice a year to keep communication at a top level."

Major General H.G. Moore, commanding general at Ft. Ord, said, "The thing I enjoyed most was the superb demonstration of cooperation and friendliness between the military community and the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

Award Is Made

An award of $895 has been made to Captain Ronald S. Taylor, formerly chief of the Combat Techniques Committee in Training Command at Ft. Ord, for a suggestion that will save Ft. Ord an estimated $38,333 in one year.

Captain Taylor suggested that pistol pyrotechnic signal flares, costing $2.41 each, replace the presently used rocket propelled signal flares 948.25 each) in Infantry training. In addition to cost saving, use of the pyrotechnic flare also eliminates the hazard of falling rocket motors. The suggestion has been referred for possible use by other training centers.

Captain Taylor is now living in Blackburg, Virginia where he is attending college.

books I have read in recent years called "Listen, Little Man!" It is written by Wilhelm Reich, with the translation by Theodore P. Wolfe. There are other books translated by Mr. Wolfe on the market and he has proved himself to be one of the most exact translators I've read. But this "Listen, Little Man!" is written to every Little Man who thinks he is Great; to every Little Man who has a prejudice, whether he was born with it or acquired it during his life span.

Here's what he said to the Little Man on Illegitimacy: "Do you not persecute the "illegitimate mother" as an immoral being, Little Man? Don't you make a strict distinction between children "born in wedlock" who are "legitimate" and children "born out of wedlock" who are "illegitimate?" Oh you poor creature, you don't understand your own words: You venerate the child Christ. The child Christ was born by a mother who had no marriage certificate. Thus, without having any idea of it, you venerate in the child Christ your longing for marital freedom, you Little Hen-Pecked Man. You made the "illegitimately" born child Christ the Son of God, who did not know illegitimate children. But then, as the Apostle Paul, you began to persecute the children of true love and to give the children of true hatred the protection of your religious laws. You are a Miserable Little Man!"

The book goes on to tell the "Little Man" all about his falacies and dreams and how he shoved himself to the top by shoving others down. It is a book that everyone should read, especially the people who are in a position in government where they have to make decisions for other people. There are so many good pages in this book that it would be hard to pick something good to quote without omitting something better. But I just have to quote this little part: (It fits so many people.) "There is one thing, Little Man, you don't know nor want to know: That you yourself create all your misery, hour after hour, day after day; that you do not understand your children, that you break their spines before they have had a chance really to develop them; that you steal love; that you are avaricious and crazy for power; that you keep a dog in order ALSO to be a 'master'."

The book is terrific, but I am not going to give a book review. If I were to give a book review, I would give it on the other book I received from another wonderful reader of our newspaper. This book is titled: "Dare to Live Now!" by Bruce Larson. It was sent by a Commander's wife who "challenged" me to complete the quote she sent me in her letter, from the New Testament (Acts, 17: 22 thru 34). I completed not only the verses, but the entire Book of Acts, (28 Chapters). I found it very interesting, although I had read it before. About the book she sent me, "Dare to Live Now", the chapter on Faith gives a man food for thought: The following letter was found in a baking powder can wired to the handle of an old pump that offered the only hope of drinking water on a very long and seldom-used trail across the Amargosa Desert:

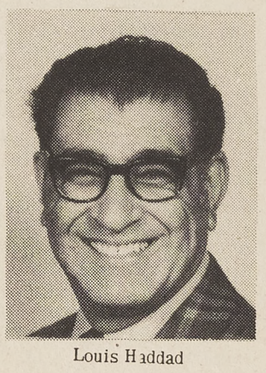

"This pump is all right as of June 1932. I put a new sucker washer into it and it ought to last five years. But the washer dries out and the pump has got to be primed. Under the white rock I buried a bottle of water, out of the sun and cork end up. There's enough water in it to prime the pump, but not if you drink some first. Pour about one fourth and let her soak to wet the leather. Then pour in the rest medium fast and pump like crazy. You'll git water. The well has never run dry. Have faith. When you git watered up, fill the bottle and put it back like you found it for the next feller.

(signed) Desert Pete

P.S. Don't go drinking up the water first. Prime the pump with it and you'll git all you can hold."

Now that takes a lot of faith. Everyone should have faith. My boss has faith. He has enough for a couple of you "fellers" out there. His faith comes from within. And he is winning his race. He may have had to use the whip a couple of times, but he is winning. And the crowd is roaring. We all love you, Andy. And Andy loves you all.

Mayor Haddad Reports

Louis Haddad

Last december I received a call from Hugh Taylor, regional representative for the Economic Development Administration, asking me to use whatever influence I may have to encourage the County Overall Economic Development Committee to become more active. Since I am a member of that committee, I called the chairman and suggested that we meet again since it had been many months since our last meeting. The response was negligible, so I notified Mr. Taylor, who then asked what projects did we need funded in Seaside.

It was then I suggested that a library be considered by his department, because all other funding avenues had been exhausted. He said that he thought that could be arranged, but wanted me to continue to try to have the OED Committee meet again.

During our meeting with Mr. Taylor, he remarked that Santa Cruz was being funded in the amount of 1.6 million dollars for a convention center. I could not understand how Santa Cruz could have a priority over the Monterey Peninsula when that city had no airport, etc. He stated that Santa Cruz did have an active OED Committee.

I called the County Administrator as well as Congressman Talcott's office and informed them what is taking place and suggested again that pressure be exerted upon the Board of Supervisors to reactivate our committee. I received a letter from Mr. Talcott, dated March 9, wherein he states that he has asked the Board to reactivate the committee. I think it is imperative that we continue to press for Economic Development funds for our county in order to increase industrial output and provide more jobs.

I see that the Supervisor of our district stated in his column last week that he has asked the Board to reactivate the committee and I'm grateful that Mr. Talcott and our County Administrator has taken steps galvanizing the Board into action.

Elected to 200 Club

Thomas M. Beisker, a salesman at Principal Motors, Inc. in Monterey, has been elected to Lincoln-Mercury Division's exclusive "200 Club," R.F. Janeck, Oakland district sales manager, announced recently.

"Mr. Beisker's outstanding 1971 sales records has placed him in the top 15 percent of all Lincoln-Mercury salesmen," Mrs. Janeck said. "He and other members of the '200 Club' played an important part in the division's record sales performance in 1971."

"We are fortunate to have men like Mr. Beisker representing our products with such professional excellence and dedication."

Selection to the "200 Club" is administered by the Lincoln-Mercury Sales Council, a nationwide organization of top Lincoln-Mercury salesmen.

Mr. Beisker was honored for his selling achievement at a "200 Club" banquet held recently at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Your Supervisor Reports

Loren E. Smith

CHILD DAY CARE CENTERS was the subject of a two hour discussion at this weeks Board of Supervisors Meeting. Representatives of the League of Women Voters from both Salinas and the Monterey Peninsula were in attendance and had filed written statements emphasizing the need for expansion of this vital program.

General confusion exists at the present time concerning the many Child Care programs set up under various Federal and State agencies. Final requirements and guidelines for contracts and actual funding are still pending at both Government levels which only adds to the already existing complex problems. Although State and Federal funds cover the greater part of the cost, the County also faces the need to supply a percentage of the total cash outlay (10 to 20 percent from local tax sources).

The Board and County officials will do everything possible to secure clarification during the next few weeks concerning the required scope of services and funding.

There are many private Child Care Homes operating in Monterey County, however, only two are funded and operated under County controls. One is known as "OPERATION SHOE STRINGS" and is located in Seaside and serves approximately 150 children. The other is MONSIGNOR EARLY'S CHILD CARE CENTER in Salinas, under the auspicies of the Catholic Church which also serves many children. Both of these programs can probably be expanded and their activities can most likely be enlarged. The total cost of these two programs is $240,000.00 for this fiscal year.

ALL CHILD CARE CENTER ACTIVITIES are closely associated with working people (Primarily Mothers) or those being trained for jobs. These Child Day Care Centers are extremely important to our Monterey Peninsula Area and you will be reading more about them in this column in a few weeks.

Letters To The Editor

Editor: I am appalled, concerned and dismayed to know that the Mayor of Seaside acknowledged that the city fathers in 1972 are using the same tactics that caused the American Revolution approximately 200 years ago. This being, TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION.

For the 15,000 persons living at Ft. Ord annexed to Seaside, the city receives over $100,000 in subventions and grants. Those persons receive no services, yet, they are in every way being exploited by the citizens of Seaside because the governing body, in all indication, believes in the "one-man-rule."

Fort Ord persons annexed to Seaside are counted as Seaside residents ONLY when it is advantageous to the city economically.

One of the first lessons we learn in parlimentary procedure and one which the presiding officer adheres to, is that the majority rules, the minority is heard and the absentees are protected. This is far from being recognized in the case of Ft. Ord, Seaside residents.

It is about time that the concerned, honest people of Seaside take a close look at the political wheel and change the structural pattern that will eventually bring chaos to the entire community of Seaside. I am diametrically opposed to paying $3,832 to AMBAG. I am also opposed to exploitation, period.

The city of Seaside must be responsive to the needs of its citizens, regardless of their status. The rights of each individual must be protected.

Each citizen must exercise his God-given right and vote.
Pearl M. Carey

Editor: Quite a few are running for political office. Undoubtedly they are all wonderful for they tell us so. May I call to their attention some things that interest senior citizens?

First, many of us need transportation. We have no cars. Often we cannot drive on account of health. Public transportation is lacking or inadequate; where it exists it must be asked to reduce fares for older folks to half-fare.

Second, many of the elderly must have much more income; social security checks should be greatly increased, part-time work should be available for those that care for it.

Third, Medicare must be upgraded to cover fully all the medical, hospital, dental, hearing aid, theraphy, chiropractor and drug bills.

Fourth, low-rent housing to meet the needs of the aged - and in attractive surroundings - must be built.

Fifth, social workers - paid or voluntary - should be obtained to visit the elderly who desire it, to help them with their problems.

Sixth, provision should be made for proper recreation facilities - parks, shuffleboard courts, handicraft and meeting centers. The aged should be taken at times to free movies, lectures, stage shows, musical affairs, picnics, rodeos, fairs, vital public meetings and historic places.

Seventh, wherever thay are lacking, sidewalks should be built alongside streets and kept free of bicycles. Cross walks should be marked very clearly at all street intersections. Curbs at such places should not be rounded off sharply - as often they are at present - for the policy ought to be to slow up autoists making a right turn at an intersection. Otherwise an elderly person hasn't much of a chance in crossing a street if confronted suddenly by a car making a rapid turn.

The old saying is true: "A civilization can be judged by how well it looks after its old folks." Also it is true that each person can be sized up by how concerned he or she is for those in their twilight years of life.
Sincerely yours,
George Herman

Editor: I wonder, as we don our Easter best and stand face to face with orselves in the mirror, if we are seeing what this special weekend is all about.

I wonder if we really apply what happened on that first Sunday after Christ's death to what is happening today. It does apply, you know. Take that young helicopter pilot in Vietnam who died trying to say a buddy's life -- a budy he probably never saw before, but nevertheless a buddy. He's dead now. How does Easter apply to him?

Take that aged man who stopped breathing last week in the local nursing home. What does Easter mean to him? I say "does" because what it means is still there and active and vital even though he is dead.

Anyone will tell you that we celebrate Easter because Christ rose from the dead on the first day of that long-ago week. We're happy for that. But we are happier still that Christ's resurrection left us a perfect example of the miracle He will perform for us someday -- when He comes again -- if we live the life He has outlined for us. In fact, the Bible tells us that when Christ rose from the tomb, a stirring of quiet graves took place even then, and what you might describe as a sampling of saints rose at the same time.

What an Easter that will be! Before you go to church this Easter, take a minute to read 1 Thessalonians 4:14-16. It will give you something to thing about during church service -- and the rest of your life!

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

"Pardon me, doctor. I'd like to talk to you."

"Well, you'll have to come back another time. I've got this appendix operation half done and I dropped my glasses down in there someplace and I've got to find them before I start stitching or I'll never get the needle threaded. How about tomorrow at my office."

"No, it can't wait. You don't belong to the physicians union, and we have several union doctors who are unemployed. We have no choice but to put a picket outside the operating room door."

"Okay, but if he has a cold please point him away from the door in case he sneezes. Oh, boy, I think I found my glasses. By the way, where is the union office in case I want to join?"

"Right here in Las Vegas, doctor, a block down the street. It's the Nevada Physicians Union Local 676 of the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO."

Actually, the American Medical Association and the various State medical associations have been quite effective as collective bargainers for physicians, but this is the first time the AFL-CIO has gotten into the act. It means the end of the powerful untouchable monopoly, which just has to be a step forward any way you look at it, even though it could be embarrassing to both the doctor and his patient if a business agent should suddenly demand to see his union card.

That little embarrassment, of course, could never approach the embarrassment being experienced by the US Navy and some unfortunate officers involved directly or indirectly in the sex sensation of the year - the court martial of a Navy chaplain at Jacksonville, Florida. Ann Landers' column has been taking a back seat for several days while some frustrated and inconsiderable women - wives of Navy officers - have filled the newspapers with accounts of their infidelities while receiving spiritual guidance from a chaplain who happened to be a commander in the Navy.

It might be great for recruiting chaplains into the Navy, but I would suggest the next time the Navy discovers such undercover activity going on within the ranks it should just accept it as a hazard of the business rather than make laughing stock of the whole US Navy by airing all the sordid details with a completely stupid court martial that is open to the press.

Questions and Answers

Q--Are there any income requirements for obyaining a VA mobile home loan?

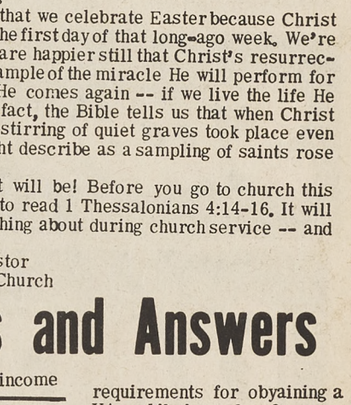

A--Only in that terms of repayment of the loan must bear a proper relationship to the veteran's or serviceman's present and anticipated income and expenses, and he must be a satisfactory credit risk.

Q--My husband, a World War II veteran, died in 1960 I was denied a pension at that time because I had been married to him only three years. May I now reapply?

A--Yes. Now a widow must have been married to a veteran only one year before his death to qualify for VA death benefits.

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi there, fellow Peninsulans:

A dark shadow cast itself over the City of Monterey! The city fathers fled from the streets into the safety of their business and homes. What was this dark shadow? Just the over-abundance of Blacks who had come to town to attend the Monterey Jazz Festival! (Smiles). This little quip and quote appeared in one of our local news media's jazzy columnist's column last year after the Jazz Festival and I just remembered to quote it in this column. Well anyway, another dark shadow will cast it's "Black and Beautiful" rays across the Peninsula and all of the Peninsula should be proud. "The Miss Black Teenage America" Beauty Pageant will be presented here on the Peninsula in May. The fortunate holder of the franchise for this pageant is the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League.

The pageant will give young Black girls a chance to be involved in the mainstream of beauty contests, which have customarily always focused on white girls, which were supposed to be the only true example and image of beauty. Until just a few short years ago, there was never a Black contestant represented in the Miss America Pageant. Just recently the nation of Africa was recognized and represented in the Miss Universe Pageant. Since Blacks have just recently been accepted as beautiful in the U.S. and over the world, Black girls have recently become aware that they possess a quality of beauty that is admired by all nationalities. As the poem reads: "Black Women are like a flower garden, they come in all colors and hues". The depriviation of Black girls from white beauty contests led to the formation and beginning of "Miss Black Teenage America Beauty Pageant".

The Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League was chosen by the California Directors of the pageant to be the franchise holder for the Monterey Peninsula Area. One of the main objectives of the Cotillion League is to motivate and cultivate the social interests of young Black girls. The preliminary pageant, which will be held here on the peninsula sometime in May, will select a Miss Black Teenage Monterey Peninsula, who will be sent to Los Angeles to participate in the Miss Black Teenage California Pageant. If successful, she will go to New York city to compete for the national title of "Miss Black Teenage America", which will be held at Madison Square Garden and be nationally televised. Young Black girls who wish to participate in the local Miss Black Monterey Peninsula Pageant must be 13 to 16 years of age, in school, and active in their community. Application forms are available from any of the following Cotillion League members: Mmes. Dolores Hampton, Betty Sapp, Mary Burden, Madlyn Thomas, Osie Hunter, Frances Valery, Helyn Short, Rachel Whitfield, Dessie Ellis, Rose Beene, Dee Dee Smith, Ruthie Watts, Prince Harris, Dorothy Evans, Sue Richardson, Charlie Knight, Bertha Hutchins, Jane Van Hook, Pearl Carey, and myself.

Other happenings around town included "Poetry in the Schools". On March 22 and 23, students in the 8th grade English class at King enjoyed a poetry workshop that was conducted by three poets. Sarah Fabio, a noted Black poetess, who has recorded an adult record titled "Soul Ain't and Soul Is", and "Box Soul", a record for young people, was there. Mrs. Fabio is also the author of "A Mirror, A Soul", a book of poems. She is a freelance writer for Black World, Johnson Publishing Co. She is now working on a novel titled "Dark Debut" about the Black Woman. Mrs. Fabio taught at Merrit College from 1966 to 1968 and at U.C. Berkeley from 1968 to 1971. She has a M.A. Degree.

The other two poets were Bill Withersup of Monterey and Ada Smith of Monterey. The poetry workshop is something new in the school system. It is a program administered by San Francisco State College for the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Arts. Federal Funds pay for half of the workshop and the local areas pay for the other half. Since special funds from the MPUSD had been utilized for this fiscal year, Mrs. Jane Snibbe, an English teacher at King Jr. High, sought funds from the Seaside community to enable the students at King to participate in this outstanding workshop. Mr. Thomas Doyle, manager of T.V. Mart in Seaside, collected $150 from Seaside merchants to bring the three poets to King Jr. High campus. As a member of the staff at King Jr. High, I sat in on one of the workshops and all I could say was Wow, our youngsters are really going to get it together if projects like this are continuously brought into the schools' campuses. Right on to the progressive education!!

Jane Van Hook hosted a group of her supporters at a "Koffee Klatch" at her new Headquarters in the Del Rey Theatre last Saturday morning. Supporters were briefed by Jane on her political beliefs and the political platform that she intends to focus on. Here's hoping that all of Monterey County will vote for a new Non-Gun-Toting "Judge". (Smiles!!).

GM To Sponsor Radio Show

A national weekly news program to inform Blacks about significant events in minority communities across the country has been scheduled for its first airing April 8 on major Black radio stations across the country.

The program, called the "Black Weekly News Roundup" (BWNR), will be sponsored by General Motors Corporation.

Its stated purpose is to provide a compact summary of significant happenings and issues in the community so that Blacks and other minorities, as well as many whites, will gain a broad view of the events affecting their daily lives.

The program will be produced by Media Ventures, Inc., a subsidiary of B&C Associates, Inc., a minority owned and operated public relations, market research and advertising consulting firm, with offices in High Point, North Carolina and Washington, D.C.

Media Ventures, Inc., said that a program of this magnitude had never been done before on a wide scale.

The 15-minute program will be aired between the hours of 10 a.m. and noon on Saturdays, with the time varying slightly in some cities.

Student Art Will Be Displayed

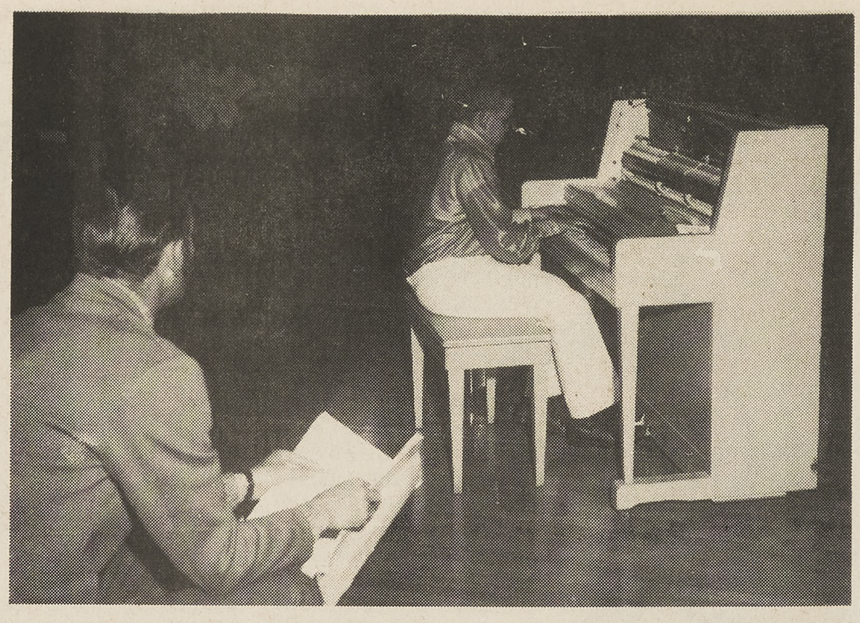

More than 100 pieces of three-dimensional art created by elementary students in Seaside, Marina and Fort Ord schools will be displayed at the Seaside City Hall during the month of April.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Monterey Bay Teachers Association, and will coincide with Public Schools Week, which will take place April 24-28.

Mrs. Marguerite Haughton, a Stilwell School teacher who is coordinating the exhibit, said youngsters in kindergarten through grade six will participate.

Among the works included in the show, she said, will be a gallery of famous Americans -- actually light bulp puttets -- created by second and third graders in Bettie Weisel's class at Ord Terrace School; papier-mache animals from Susanne Polden's fifth and sixth grade class at Covell School; papier-mache "creatures" from third graders in Dolores Harris' classroom at Noche Buena School; clay head sculptures produced by students in Sherry Smith's fifth grade class at Marina Vista School and sculptures made from wood scraps by Jan Nelson's intermediate grade students from Manzanita School.

The public is invited to view the children's work throughout the month.

YOUNG ARTISTE - Larry Ayo, student at Marshall Community School, played Hungarian Rhapsody before more than 1,200 persons at recent "Youth on Parade" show held at Fort Ord.
